A new era at Wofford began in 2018 with the opening of the Jerry Richardson Indoor Stadium. The new home of basketball and volleyball is adjacent to the north end of Gibbs Stadium, where the Terriers play football.

Wofford alumnus and trustee Jerry Richardson, Class of 1959, provided the gift to fund the facility that includes a 3,400-seat basketball arena and a 350-seat volleyball competition venue as well as offices, locker rooms, meeting rooms, training rooms and special fan areas, including several open-air suites. The facility replaces Benjamin Johnson Arena, which will continue to be used as a first-rate gymnasium for intramural and campus recreational activities.

“The Richardsons have done it again,” head men’s basketball coach Mike Young said. “First the Center for the Arts and now the Jerry Richardson Indoor Stadium. I’m eager to tour prospective students through both buildings to show them, as well as tell them, that Wofford student-athletes are students first.”

The Jerry Richardson Indoor Stadium also has a seating capacity for non-athletics functions, such as commencement and concerts, of 4,500. The facility includes “Club 51” for club seat holders, the “Boneyard” lounge in the student section, state of the art sound system and acoustical design, along with electronic charging stations throughout the building.

The 2017-18 season saw a mix of success and challenges for Nathan Hoover. In all 34 games played, he averaged 11.0 points, 2.6 rebounds, and 1.4 assists in 27.1 minutes of action. His performance was highlighted by a career-high performance of 23 points against UNC Asheville where he shot 4 of 5 from three-point range. He also scored 24 points in a win against Western Carolina, setting a new career high in points scored. Throughout the season, Hoover made significant contributions in both offensive and defensive categories, as evidenced by his scoring contributions in crucial games against South Carolina and Furman.

In addition to his on-court performance, Hoover's contributions off the court are noteworthy. He led the team in free throw percentage, shooting 85.9% from the line, and his assist-to-turnover ratio of 1.2 was among the highest on the team.

Looking towards the future, the 2018-19 season presents new challenges and opportunities. With a seasoned lineup returning, Hoover will have the chance to make an even greater impact on the team. His efforts on both ends of the court will be critical to the team's success, and he will continue to be an asset to the Wofford Terriers.
